

IMPORTANT: Even though a particular site may say that it is for ESL students, most of the sites are helpful for any English students!

.....

English as a Second Language Home Page

<http://www.rong-chang.com>

An excellent starting point for ESL learners who want to learn English online.

English as 2nd Language

<http://esl.about.com>

This site concentrates on helping you to get the best out of the Internet while improving your English language skills. From About.com.

Eurocosm

<http://www.eurocosm.com>

Learn English, German, French, Italian and Spanish for free using this online Language Lab.

English@home

<http://www.english-at-home.com>

Learn English for free! This site has grammar, vocabulary and speaking pages, shockwave games, a free newsletter and an English FAQ.

The Tower of English

<http://towerofenglish.com>

The Tower is a fun place for ESL students to use and practice English. You'll find lots of interesting activities and projects here.

English Pronunciation

<http://www.faceweb.okanagan.bc.ca/pron/>

This site provided by the Okanagan University College has extensive pronunciation lessons added on a regular basis. It requires Shockwave and QuickTime plug-ins.

Pronunciation Help

<http://esl.about.com>

“Once you’ve learned to correctly pronounce every word in the following poem, you will be speaking English better than 90% of the native English speakers in the world...”

On-Line English Grammar

<http://www.edufind.com>

An outstanding grammar site that gives in-depth explanations for a vast variety of grammar questions.

English for Free

<http://www.free-english.com/english/website.aspx>

This site offers access to free flash ESL games, free educational ESL and TOEFL® CD titles. A free no-hassle membership will give you unlimited access to the site’s incredible free ESL and TOEFL® resource center.

Sentence Sense Online

<http://cctc.commnet.edu/sensen/>

This online textbook offers students three approaches to becoming more confident writers by focusing on sentence structure.

A Guide for Writing MLA Research Papers

<http://www.ccc.commnet.edu/mla/index.shtml>

This is a site dedicated to the MLA style research paper. Commonly asked questions are answered.

A Guide for Writing APA Research Papers

http://cctc.commnet.edu/apa/apa\_index.htm

This is a sister site to the MLA site listed above; it focuses exclusively on APA style rather than MLA. It also has commonly asked questions and answers to those questions.

Guide to Grammar and Writing

<http://www.ccc.commnet.edu/writing/writing.htm>

This is an extensive source of information that covers virtually every subject within the English language. Along with many quizzes and tutorials, it also offers many useful WWW links to facilitate students in the world of English. This award-winning site is highly recommended.

Owl Handouts Listed by Topic

<http://owl.english.purdue.edu>

This website is a seemingly inexhaustible source for English students of any level. The site contains plenty of grammar help, and also quizzes and information on writing papers and professional writing.

Online Encyclopedias

<http://www.encyclopedia.com>

<http://www.britannica.com>

<http://encarta.msn.com>